CLAIMS 1-13 ARE PRESENTED FOR EXAMINATION

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, claims 1,2 and 5-9 in Paper No. 5 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that there is commonality of invention among the claims since they all recite an active agent which is capable of reducing uric acid. This is not found persuasive because the claimed active agent have acquired a separate status in the pharmaceutical art. The classification of gene therapy is in class 424 and agents related to xanthin oxidase inhibitors are classified in class 514. Accordingly, only claims 1, 2, 5 and 7 have been searched as they relate to the xanthine oxidase inhibitors and claims 3, 4, 6 and 8-13 are withdrawn from consideration.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 2, 5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mentrup et al. (4,539,323).

Mentrup et al. at column 9, lines 7-30 disclose the use of allopurinol, one of applicants' active agents, is known to treat hypertension.

The reference differs from applicants' claims, specifically claim 7, since it fails to teach that allopurinol has a hypotensive effect. However, reference would have motivated one of ordinary skill in the art to use the applicants' claimed active agent to treat hypertension since it teaches the use of the claimed active agent in combination with agents which treat hypertension.

Claims 1, 2 and 5 are drawn to a method of treating hypertension comprising the administration of an agent capable of reducing uric acid levels in a patient.

However, applicants may have determined a mechanism by which the active ingredient gives the pharmacological effect does not alter the fact that the compound has been previously used to obtain the same pharmacological effects which would result from the claimed method. The patient, condition to be treated and the effect are the same. An explanation of why that effect occurs does not make novel or even unobvious the treatment of the conditions encompassed by claims 1, 2 and 7.

None of the claims are allowed.
